

Group Assignment – MN 3042

Your Task

Select a listed company under Colombo Stock Exchange and provide a report that why stakeholders should move further or not with that particular company after doing a comprehensive financial statement analysis for five years. You may analyze both quantitative and qualitative information in the annual reports and other sources, and any relevant technique can be used.

Guidelines

- Length – minimum 4000 words excluding any supplementary material attached as appendices
- Submit – on or before 30th March 2018, 03.00 pm
- Group Size – not more than 06 (you may decide the members on your own)
- Font -Times New Roman
- Font size – 12
- Line space – 1.5
- Font size (headings) – 14 with bold

Content of the report

- Introduction about the company - Nature, Industry, stakeholders (15 Marks)
- Analysis - you may use any analysis techniques which help you to decide on your task (30 Marks)
- Conclusion - Based on your analysis explain your conclusions (25 Marks)
- Recommendations – Explain your recommendations to stakeholders (20 Marks)
- Clarity of the report (10 marks)
- References made according to the APL referencing system
- Annexes – your calculations should be there in annexes

Important

- Do not use spiral binding or hard binding for the report. You must use a tape or stapler pins to bind your report. Both hard copy and soft copy in a CD should be submitted.
- Workload Matrix – Mandatory to identify the subtasks that you performed to do the assignment and contribution of each member. (Please attach that at the end of your report)

Late submission Policy

Students are permitted to submit their assignments maximum up to five working days after the due with the penalty of reduced marks. Penalty of late submission will be five (05) mark for each working day with the maximum 25 marks. No assignment submitted after this late submission period should be accepted by the lecturer for marking.

Academic misconduct, Cheating and Plagiarism

Plagiarism is the presentation of another's academic work without acknowledging appropriately. Whether one presents another's academic work as one's own intentionally or unintentionally, it is taken as academic misconduct. Not only direct quotation but also paraphrasing should be acknowledged appropriately. Even with proper acknowledgement, inclusion of another's academic work in a given assignment should be limited and may vary from one assignment to another. Other reported forms of cheating may include copying of another student's work completely or partly, getting another to do the assignment completely or partly, inclusion of the name(s) of student(s) who has/have not contributed to the assignment appropriately. The department will carry out plagiarism checking via Turnitin software. Any assignments related to any academic misconduct, cheating and plagiarism above 30% will be carried zero (0) marks.